“It is not an adequate ethical standard to aspire to get through the day without being indicted.”

Richard Breenen, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission

Board of Directors

“One of the key roles for the board includes establishing the culture, values and ethics of the company. It is important that the board sets the correct ‘tone at the top’. The directors should lead by example and ensure that good standards of behaviour permeate throughout all levels of the organization. This will help prevent misconduct, unethical practices, and support the delivery of long-term success.”
